Controlling witnesses

Matthias Baaz
Technical University, Vienna, Austria
`baaz@logic.at`

We present a translation which allows one to describe constructive provability in the sense of usual mathematics within classical first-order logic. Therefore, classical models can be used to demonstrate constructive unprovability.